Webinar Invitation

The Department of History, Unity College, Dimapur, Nagaland, cordially invites your participation in an academic lecture by Professor Sajal Nag, Department of History, Assam University, Silchar, scheduled at 5:00 PM June 27 2020.

"Are we headhunters and slave drivers?"

History through Campaign in North East India"

Sajal Nag, Professor and Head, Department of History; Dean, J N Sarkar School of Social Sciences, Assam University, Silchar.

"The colonial writers had branded most tribes of North East India as head hunters and slave drivers. The Nagas, Kukis and Mizos had thus head hunters and slave drivers who made the life of the plainsmen including the British miserable by their raids for headhunting and slave procuring. By virtue of being so, these tribes were characterized as savage, barbarians, and uncivilized. Worse even, tribes themselves believed so even though until the British came and regarded the plainsmen as savage and uncivilized. The discourses had changed and with it the self-esteem of the tribes. They adopted Christianity on the belief that it would bring them under the orbit of civilization and regret their pasts. This talk is about the processes through which the life and culture of the tribes of northeast India had changed and there had been no counter to such malicious campaign".

Professor Sajal Nag teaches Modern and Contemporary Indian History – Nationalism and Ethnicity and has published extensively on different aspects of India's North-East. He was the first Netaji Subhash Chandra Bose Distinguished Chair Professor in Social Sciences at Presidency University, Kolkata. He was also a Charles Wallace Fellow at the Centre of South Asian Studies, University of Cambridge (UK), a Commonwealth Fellow to United Kingdom during 2004-2005 and a Visiting Senior Research Fellow at Queen's University, Belfast. He was Senior Fellow at Nehru Memorial Museum and Library, New Delhi.
